MURRAY'S AGENT UP IN AIR ON PLANS

Semans Says Question of Entrance in Primary Still Undecided.

Conferences between Ed M. Semans, personal representative of Governor William H. Murray, Oklahoma's candidate for the democratic presidential nomination, and Lawrence Camp, democratic state chairman, ended Wednesday with the question of whether Murray's name will be entered in the Georgia primary "still up in the air."

Semans, after calling on Camp and discussing the political situation, went to the capital and discussed the same matter with Governor Russell. Neither Russell nor Camp had anything to say about the meetings. Semans said that he had very pleasant chats with both.

He did not, however, locate C. W. Jones, the man who wired him Saturday that Murray could carry Georgia. All telephone efforts to get in touch with Jones developed no satisfactory information as to his activity for Murray. Although on Saturday he was known to have been issuing publicity statements for the so-called Roosevelt-Southern club, an organization repudiated by the latter in general assembly, he has not denied sending telegrams to Oklahoma City.

New Yorkers Protest Cardozo Appointment

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—(AP) The elevation of Judge Benjamin N. Cardozo to the United States supreme court was protested today by two of his fellow residents of the state of New York. They were invited to appear Friday before a senate judiciary subcommittee and express their objections in person.

The protests came from William H. Anderson, general secretary of the American Protestant Alliance, and O. R. Miller, Albany, an official of the New York Civic League.

Anderson said today in a telegram that he would testify "against Judge Cardozo's fitness as indicated by his contribution to the consummation of an infamy of injustice perpetrated through the Tammany control and prostitution of the courts, shown by Judge Seabury's revelations."

since Saturday have been carrying stories of Jones in connection with Murray club, a political movement which Semans found to be a will of the wisp affair. It is an even less tangible organization than the Roosevelt-Southern club which attempted to flourish last year under the guiding hand of Jones, a son of Rev. C. O. Jones, Georgia superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, until its commercial purpose was exploded by the general assembly.

Semans, whose principal contact has been with Turner Smith, Atlanta publisher and long time personal friend of the Oklahoma executive, planned to return to Oklahoma City to report to his chief. Upon the latter, Semans said, will rest the decision about entering the Georgia primary.

LEGION TO MEET TODAY UNRELIEF

Final Plans for War on Depression Will Be Laid at Morning Session.

Encouraged by reports from posts all over the state showing that unemployed persons already are being put to work through the war against depression, local leaders of the American Legion will meet again this morning to agree upon final plans for the launching of a house-to-house and business-to-business canvass for jobs for unemployed.

Major Trammell Scott, commander of the Atlanta post of the Legion, has been chosen general chairman of the Atlanta movement, and has appointed the following board of strategy to serve as general staff:

Robert W. Woodruff, T. K. Glenn, Josiah T. Rose, Eugene R. Black, Fred Jordan, A. Steve Vance, Hal Voorhis and Al Thornwell.

Industrial Group Named.

Chief among local developments Wednesday was the compilation of a directory of industrial firms in the county which will be canvassed by workers when the "big push" is inaugurated here. A meeting held by the organization committee in the afternoon of Mr. Glenn Wednesday morning adopted the canvass arrangements of the Atlanta Community Chest as a basis upon which the solicitation of employers in this territory will be made.

In addition, a special industrial committee was named to contact all business leaders and industry heads, as well as to organize a house-to-house division which at an early date will call upon home-owners in the residential sections to seek what is termed "made" work, such as repairs, installations, upkeep and painting jobs.

Reports from national headquarters of the Legion's drive Wednesday showed that 29,930 men have been placed in jobs since the beginning of the unemployment "war" Monday. Figures for Georgia were slow in trickling into national headquarters, but it was estimated that more than 200 persons in this state had been given work as the result of efforts of the 120 Georgia posts of the Legion.

"We are just about ready for our army here to move," said Commander Scott Wednesday night. "We have the advantage of knowing in advance just how many employers each employer normally has on his pay roll and just how many are actually at work at the present time. With this information and the canvass set-up of the Community Chest we will get down to real work. This will start at an early date, and will be inaugurated by a general assembly of all field workers and canvassers. The spirit with which Atlanta business and industrial leaders are co-operating is one of the most splendid examples of civic pride that we have ever encountered. It is the one essential factor in such a colossal undertaking, and we are convinced of our ultimate success."

Russell to Aid Plan.
Announcement was made by State Commander Quimby Melton from Griffin Wednesday of the acceptance by Governor Richard B. Russell Jr. of the office of ex-officio chairman of the statewide citizens' committee to aid and prosecute the drive.

"I am in hearty accord with the splendid efforts of the American Legion to combat unemployment and I will be glad to co-operate in every possible way," wired the governor. "I will be glad to serve as ex-officio chairman and assist in every possible way to insure the success of this most important movement."

The statewide citizens' committee will include leaders of official, Legion, business and labor activities. Acceptances already have been received from John S. Cheatham, of Griffin; C. J. Haden, of Atlanta, former president of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce; and Dr. Andrew M. Soule, president of the Georgia State College of Agriculture.

45 PUT TO WORK IN MACON:
NATIONAL TOTAL IS 29,930
NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Jobs by the thousands for unemployed men continued to be reported to the headquarters of the "war against depression" today.

Toward the goal of 1,000,000 jobs, 29,930 places were filled in the first two days by the united efforts of the American Legion, its auxiliary, the American Federation of Labor, and the Association of National Advertisers.

Eighty-four communities in 27 states reported 13,051 men had been placed in newly-created positions during the second day of the campaign.

General John J. Pershing, commander of the American expeditionary forces in France during the World War, urged the campaign on in a message in which he said:

"I am confident American Legion members will show the same aggressive spirit in this battle against unemployment and depression that marked their World War service and by co-operation with the great civilian organizations much can be accomplished."

The reports on the second day's efforts included—Georgia: Macon, 42; Kentucky: Owensboro 3, Paducah 7; Louisiana: 160 in the state at large; Mississippi: Senatobia 10, Jackson 44; Brandon 2; Vicksburg 12; Missouri: Bonne Terre 15, state at large 87; Kansas City 4, St. Louis 25; Warrensburg 20; North Carolina: Ford 1, High Point 5; Kansas: 79; Raleigh 5, Rocky Mount 3; Warrenton 12; South Carolina: Spartanburg 8; Virginia: Appomattox 2; West Virginia: Clarksburg 259, Follinsbee 260.

CHARLES LEVINE, MISSING 2 YEARS, HELD IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Charles A. Levine, whose checkered career has cast him in the swiftly changing roles since his spectacular flight to Europe with Clarence Chamberlin four years ago, hobbled out of mysterious silence into the news again today, with a broken leg, an alias, and arrest for grand larceny.

He was discovered after an anonymous telephone call to the district attorney's office tipped officials they would be "interested" to learn the real identity of a man registered at the Harbor sanitarium under the name of "Charles Jaffee."

Detectives hurried to the hospital, recognized Levine and placed him under arrest in connection with the theft of $22,000 worth of American Telephone & Telegraph stock believed to have been in his possession.

He has been missing since December, 1930, when he failed to answer a subpoena to be questioned in the stock theft case.

MAN TAKES OWN LIFE, SAYS HE FEARED GANG

ATLANTA CITY, N. J., Feb. 17.—(AP)—Leaving notes saying he feared vengeance, a man identified from letters as Clever H. Coleman, 37, of 107 Seventh street, S. E., Washington, D. C., and Jackson, N. C., committed suicide in a hotel here.

He arrived Monday and his body was found in his room tonight, a bullet hole in his head.

New Sister Ship of Akron Will Be Christened Macon

BY GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Secretary of the Navy Adams today announced that the new ZRS-6 air ship now being built at Akron, Ohio, will be christened U. S. S. Macon, in honor of the city of Macon, Ga. Scheduled for completion in January of next year the giant dirigible of the U. S. S. Akron (ZRS-4).

Representative Carl Vinson, of Georgia, is credited with persuading the navy department head to name the dirigible after the Georgia city. As chairman of the important house naval affairs committee under the present democratic congressional regime, he is in charge of all new legislation affecting the navy department.

Only two other vessels of similar magnitude are owned by the American government, the Los Angeles, named after the southern California city, and the recently christened Akron.

Studies are now being made by the navy department as to the advisability of insuring the United States keeping in the forefront of lighter-than-air development. The house naval affairs committee to which the question has been referred probably will make the ultimate decision.

If the change in capacity is made, the U. S. S. Macon will be one hundred thousand cubic feet larger than the U. S. S. Akron which with the U. S. S. Los Angeles, comprise this country's lighter-than-air naval monsters.

The U. S. S. Macon will be the third ship and first dirigible in American naval service named in honor of the city of Macon. The first was a Confederate wooden gunboat, steam propelled, mounting six guns and manned by 18 officers and 80 men. The U.

S. S. Macon served during 1864 in the Savannah river, and after the fall of Savannah, was taken to Augusta where she was held until the end of the Civil War. The second ship, the City of Macon, was a steel cargo ship of 8,900 tons, steam propelled, acquired by the government in 1918 for use as a cargo ship during the late World War, and renamed Macon.

The precise dimensions of the U. S. S. Macon will not be known until after the house naval affairs committee submits its report but it will be approximately 152 1/2 feet in diameter, 132.9 feet in width over all and 145.8 feet in height over all.

ROOSEVELT AND SMITH BACKERS BUSY IN EAST

BOSTON, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Democratic political fires blazed merrily in two New England states tonight as supporters of Alfred E. Smith and Franklin D. Roosevelt piled on fuel for primary campaigns in New Hampshire and Massachusetts.

In New Hampshire, where the first presidential primary of the 1932 campaign will be held on March 8, a statewide fight for pledged delegates was in sight as the end of the period for filing candidacies approached. Those seeking places on the delegation have until 5 p. m. tomorrow to file their petitions.

Although the Massachusetts presidential primary is still more than two months away, the campaign moved forward today as Roosevelt supporters completed their preparations to open headquarters here tomorrow.

NARCOTIC AGENTS ACCUSED BY BLACK

Enforcement Officers Shielded Jack Diamond, N. Y. Solon Says.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Federal narcotic agents were accused of having shielded the notorious Jack Diamond from New York city police today at a house committee hearing on the advisability of investigating narcotic law enforcement.

Representative Black, democrat, New York, said Democratic Police Inspector John Coughlin had sought to arrest the gangster, since dead, for questioning in connection with his criminal activities.

"Diamond got wind of it and appealed to his friends in the narcotic force," said Black in urging the investigation. "He surrendered to the federal narcotic people at Mount Ver-

P.-T. A. To Present Smillie School With Portrait of Retiring Principal

The Ella W. Smillie public school will be presented a handsome portrait of Miss Ella W. Smillie, principal of the school for the last 22 years, at 10 o'clock Friday morning by the P.-T. A. of the institution. The painting will be presented by Mrs. David J. Harwell, president of the Parent-Teacher Association, and little Miss Helen Harwell and Martha Jennings Rehneck, sixth grade pupils who have attended the Smillie school for the last six years, will unveil the picture.

Speakers for the occasion will be the Rev. John Moore Walker, rector of St. Luke's Episcopal church, of which Miss Smillie is a prominent member, and Ira Harrelson, president of the Atlanta board of education. Miss Ruth Cockrell and Mrs. James Carlson, teachers of the Smillie school, also will pay tribute to Miss Smillie who was retired as principal on January 1. Miss Smillie has taught in the Atlanta public schools for 46 years, having begun her teaching career here at the age of 17.

A large cake bearing 22 candles will be presented Miss Smillie at the ceremony Friday by Mrs. Margaret Rehneck in behalf of the Parent-Teacher Association and little Martha Rehneck will present her with a basket of flowers from the P.-T. A.

NEW BEER BILL TO BE SUBMITTED

House Anti-Prohibition Blocs Agree Tentatively on Form of Measure.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Leaders of house democratic and republican anti-prohibition blocs agreed tentatively today upon the form of a bill to legalize beer, porter, ale, stout and other cereal fermented beverages of 3.2 per cent alcohol by weight.

The measure—drafted by Representative William E. Hull, republican, Illinois, and O'Connor, democrat, Illinois, also would establish a tax of 4 cents on each 16-ounce bottle of the liquor sold. O'Connor estimated this would bring $900,000,000 a year into the federal treasury.

Representatives Linthicum, of Maryland, and Beck, of Pennsylvania, chairmen respectively of the democratic and republican blocs, agreed in general on the measure. Formal action, however, by the executive committee of both groups is necessary before the bill can be presented to the full house. O'Connor said the executive committee would meet jointly tomorrow to discuss the question.

Some members of the blocs said the beer bill will not go to the judiciary committee, which already has disappeared a measure calling for a referendum on the eighteenth amendment but to the committee on ways and means, which now is drafting a new tax bill.

The bill as now drafted would amend the Volstead act so as to permit beer of about 4.1-2 per cent alcohol by volume. The law now prohibits more than one-half of one per cent.

The measure also would prohibit the sale of the new beverages in any form but 16-ounce, or pint, bottles. In addition, the bill would forbid the importation of any grains for use in the manufacture of the beverages. O'Connor estimated this would create a market for at least 150,000,000 bushels of domestic grain annually.

Under the measure the new beer could be sold by the bottle in hotel dining rooms, restaurants or clubs where annual dues are at least $15 when served "with a bona fide meal." At the same time it could be sold in cases of 12 or 24 pint bottles for consumption in homes.

U. S. To Investigate 2 Deaths in Mexico

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 17.—(AP)—A formal investigation into the sudden deaths last Sunday of W. P. Connell, banker, and Anthony Doherty, state senator, both of Baton Rouge, La., was ordered today by the attorney general's office.

State Senator Charles R. Holcombe, of Louisiana, who accompanied the bodies to Baton Rouge, has been summoned to testify, as has Maria De Los Angeles Lopez, who previously informed police she was in a cabaret dancing with Mr. Connell when he became violently ill. He died a short time later.

Autopsies revealed that heart attacks caused both deaths.

COURT'S DECISION HITS WAGE BUYERS HERE, BOYD SAYS

Affirmance of the city court of Columbus in the case of the State vs. E. P. Wilson and C. E. Crowe, charged with it a chain-gang sentence, was the first effective punishment in Georgia of salary buyers, charged with operating illegally. L. R. Boyd, secretary of the Atlanta Thrift Society, said Wednesday.

"Since this conviction, Columbus has been absolutely free of any activity of money lenders operating outside of or contrary to the small loan laws of Georgia," he asserted.

"Georgia courts previously have fined usurers, but this is the first instance real punishment has been meted out. These last decisions are of enormous importance to thousands of people in Atlanta who, during the recent financial stress, have opened accounts with certain local salary buyers and, by agreement with these borrowers, never present assignments to employers, but accept weekly renewal fees and new assignments in exchange for cash. No opportunity is given to reduce the debt on installments, but renewals are required, unless the whole amount is paid. This system has hundreds of Atlanta clerks and young business men and women in its grasp. This system is identical with the method used by the Columbus companies, which resulted in the convicting and chain-gang sentence meted out."

Prohibition Crusaders Warn Against Evils of Liquor Traffic

WETS ARE PLAYED AT DRY'S MEETING

Colonel Robins also delivered an address at the evening meeting. "The constitution of the United States, as an integral national policy, effective in whole, was upheld by Colonel Robins during the evening address."

"To select one portion of the constitution, or the public law for loyalty and obedience and reject other portions of the constitution and the law is selective anarchy, whether persons guilty of this crime know it or not," he said. "What shall we say of those in high places and low who sneer at the eighteenth amendment, violate and encourage nullification of the constitution because of personal habit or custom, or ideas of states' rights, police power or summary legislation, when Lincoln, who was giving his life to overthrow the institution of human slavery, upheld the integrity of the constitution even when it seemed to run counter to the most precious rights of human liberty—even the freedom of the human soul?"

Today's sessions will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Henry Grady and at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the city auditorium. Dr. Daniel A. Poling, president of the World's Christian Endeavor Union and general chairman of the Allied Forces, will be principal speaker tonight, and others to appear on today's programs are Dr. Oliver W. Stewart, vice chairman, and Dr. Ira Landrith, chairman of the National Temperance Council.

Wednesday's sessions were attended by several hundred persons, a large majority of whom were women and elderly men. The audience was vitally enthusiastic, applauding every announcement that the saloon has been permanently banished from America.

In his address Colonel Robins drew a scathing indictment of the wet interests, including organizations aimed at modification or repeal of the prohibition laws.

"The liquor traffic in the United States as a whole," he said, "has been lawless and criminal since the beginning. It fostered the selling of liquor to minors and caused organized municipal corruption in very city in the United States—sheriffs, police officers, judges and the like—all were in the hands of the liquor traffic."

And, while there no doubt is a very large number of lovely and charming society women and highly intelligent and sincere men in the ranks of the wets, it cannot be denied that there also are in the same ranks criminals, gunmen and crooks. The wet propagandists have been pouring out veiled poison through newspapers; have subsidized gifted young writers and have even gone so far as to purchase outright a religious newspaper, the subscribers of which were 90 per cent dry, in their effort to flood the country with their poisonous propaganda."

State Control Scored. Attacking the plea for government control of liquor of those opposing prohibition, Colonel Robins said he interpreted this sort of administration to mean that "the liquor traffic would control the government." South Carolina he said, had tried state control of liquor for 22 years and that as a result "it rotted public service in that state through its multiplicity of blind pigs and speakeasies, its corruption of sheriffs and police officers throughout the state and that finally the citizens of South Carolina rose and voted it out in favor of statewide prohibition."

South Dakota was another state, he said, which tested out state control, and later voted for outright prohibition. He attacked the argument that restoration of legalized beer would provide alleviation for industry, agriculture and employment problems. Colonel Robins caused a perceptible hush to fall over the audience when he prefaced his remarks on beer by saying:

"If that were true, I'm just fanatic enough to be in favor of a return of beer myself."

The speaker then proceeded to assail the logic of arguments in favor of a return of beer by citing the experiment undertaken by Iowa, which state he asserted had legalized the sale of beer and prohibited that of hard liquor.

"It is impossible to have beer without liquor," said the colonel. "It is out of the question to have one kind of beverage legal and the other illegal and at the same time have proper enforcement. You would have to send along a chemist with every drink of beer to determine and fix the legal alcoholic content."

He turned to Georgia as another state which had long experimented with the legalization of beer and the outlawing of whiskey.

"You see," he said, "the state of Georgia tried this experiment for 11 years," he said. "And the outgrowth of it was that your beer parlors sold hard liquors on the sly and your sheriffs and police officers throughout the state were corrupted through the influence of the liquor traffic."

Robins Cites Figures. Citing figures further to discount arguments of those in favor of modification of the Volstead act, Colonel Robins said that for every $100,000 invested in liquor in 1900 only $57,000 was paid out to labor, as compared with $254,000 paid for labor for every million dollars invested by the average American manufacturer; for each $1,000,000 invested in liquor that year only $139,000 was spent by wet interests for raw materials, while the average manufacturer expenditure for raw materials in the same investment was $278,000.

"They tell us," he continued, "that a prohibition of beer would place hundreds of thousands of men in jobs, would use up the surplus crops of grain produced by the farmers and

Cotton Brings 16 Cents At Market in Memphis

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 17.—(AP)—Some of the longest staple cotton ever produced in the Memphis territory brought 16 cents a pound here today.

Twenty-five bales grown near Indianola, Miss., was sold to Williams & Co., of Memphis, by D. D. Dumas & Co., at approximately $80 a bale.

The cotton graded middling and with staple length from one and one-half to one and three-quarter inches, will be shipped to North Carolina to be used in making underwear.

would work great benefits in that way. Let us look at statistics and see just how this would work out: In 1914 all the breweries and distilleries in the United States were in operation and used only 37,000,000 bushels of grain. Today, in 1932, the surplus of the American grain growers is 276,000,000 bushels."

In approaching his reference to the forthcoming presidential nominations, the speaker charged that the prohibition question is "a red herring being drawn across the trail of every economic issue at stake."

"Every worldwide issue, every economic problem is being confused and baffled by this liquor question, which we Americans have every right to believe was settled 12 years ago."

PEACE EFFORTS RENEWED IN EAST

JAP INSTITUTION BOMBED: PEACE EFFORTS CONTINUE. (Copyright, 1932, by The Associated Press.) SHANGHAI, China, Feb. 18.—(Thursday).—While peace negotiations were going on today in an effort to avert Japan's big push against the Chinese army defending Shanghai, an important Japanese commercial institution in the heart of the International Settlement was partially wrecked by a bomb.

The blast tore away the entrance to the firm of Jusu Bussan Kaisha, one block from the famous Shanghai Bund, and jarred the whole crowded business district. One Chinese was killed and four were wounded.

The bomb hit go shortly after 8 o'clock, before the building was fully occupied and before the neighborhood was crowded with office workers. Thirty-five Japanese employees were in the building at the time, but they were on the upper floors or in the rear of the ground floor, and although badly shaken, none of them was hurt.

Police rushed to the scene of the bombing and blocked off the whole area, keeping back tremendous crowds in the surrounding streets. The building is headquarters for many Japanese organizations operating in cotton mills, steamships and importing and exporting businesses. Next door to the Mitsui property are other important Japanese offices.

Preparations for war went on at fever heat behind the Chinese and Japanese headquarters.

At Japanese headquarters a question about peace efforts brought the reply: "We have heard nothing of them."

A new quarters spokesman said that a skirmish occurred in the vicinity of Kiangwan, north of Shanghai, early today, in the course of which the Chinese attempted to drive a wedge into the Japanese lines and were repulsed.

In this skirmish, the spokesman said, the Chinese suffered "considerable casualties." He lost no more than the Japanese, he said.

The truth about the peace negotiations seemed to be that frantic efforts were being made in virtually all quarters with the exception of probably both the Chinese and Japanese armed services.

Reports that the Chinese and Japanese army commanders were meeting during the day met with a flat denial from General Tso Ting-kai, commanding the 19th Chinese army.

"I am not meeting General Uyeda (Lieutenant-General Kenkichi Uyeda, Japanese commander) and so far as I know there is no peace in sight," General Tso said.

Foreign diplomats, including American Minister Nelson T. Johnson and the British and French envoys, continued their peace efforts but they declined any definite results other than the apparently endless discussions with representatives of Chinese and Japanese interests.

Man Hurt in Scuffle With 300-Pound Woman

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Henry Sweet, 155 pounds, died Tuesday of injuries received when he fell 20 feet from a balcony to the pavement along with a 300-pound woman who landed on top of him.

The woman's weight crushed his skull and caused internal injuries. The woman, Nell Lewis, was in a hospital with broken knee caps received in the fall. The two were said to have been scuffling when they plunged over the railing.

ports and this feature has been flatly rejected by China. While the peace talks continued nothing definite emerged although one fact seemed to be conspicuous—the willingness of the Japanese to accept withdrawal by the Chinese troops on a far lesser scale than they originally demanded.

Although reports were the Japanese were holding out for a Chinese withdrawal of at least 30 miles from the Settlement, latest developments indicated they would accept considerably less.

According to these indications the Japanese would be satisfied with a Chinese withdrawal of seven or eight miles while they in turn would withdraw from Chapei and probably from other Chinese areas in the direction of Woosung as quickly as possible.

But the Chinese military authorities thus far have given no evidence of any intention to retire. This attitude might change momentarily, it was pointed out, but for the time being the situation appeared deadlocked.

JAPANESE AUTHORITIES EXPLAIN TO MISSIONARIES. TOKYO, Feb. 17.—(AP)—On the invitation of the National Christian Council, Toshio Shiratori, head of the Japanese foreign office's information bureau, explained to a meeting of Christian leaders today Japan's action at Shanghai.

American missionaries questioned him closely on many phases of the military operations in Manchuria and at Shanghai, but did not evidence a hostile attitude. It was learned they had requested a statement of the government's viewpoint because their contemporaries at home had cabled to ask how Japan defended herself against charges widely published in America.

WILLIAMS' TRIAL SET FOR EARLY IN MARCH

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 17.—Trial of Dent Williams, young attorney, charged with assault with intent to murder Willie Peterson, negro, under sentence of death for killing Williams' sister, today was set for March 7.

Williams shot and seriously wounded Peterson in the Jefferson county jail last October, shortly after the negro was arrested for the slaying of Miss Augusta Williams.

Peterson was convicted January 25 and sentenced to die. He has an appeal for a new trial before the Alabama supreme court.

Williams is at liberty under bond.

Georgia Tax System Scored In Talks by Park and Norman

By the Associated Press.

A call to Georgia to remedy its tax system in order to put the state in position to make progress was sounded here Wednesday by Orrville Park, Macdonald attorney and tax expert, and H. C. Norman, former state tax commissioner.

They spoke to a committee of the municipal utilities rate association of Georgia which is meeting at the Piedmont hotel to the proposed constitutional amendment to limit taxation on intangible property to five mills. Both advocated adoption of the amendment.

"Every state in the Union has made more progress in the last 10 years than Georgia, and it is because of the inequitable system of taxation," Mr. Park said.

Both he and Mr. Norman said the present plan of including intangibles in the general property tax "was not only being winked at by citizens, but was driving people south out of the state and leaving out of Georgia prospective industries and wealthy citizens."

They made the point that because the general property tax is much more than five mills, very few persons return intangibles for taxation, and that the revenue from this class of property is actually showing a sharp drop in Georgia in comparison with recent years.

Tax Put at 20 Mills. O. W. Franklin, city attorney of Valdosta, and chairman of the association, estimated that the general property tax for the state as a whole was about 20 mills in the cities and 15 mills in the counties.

Mr. Franklin, who presided at the hearing, said the association would gather information from various cities in Georgia as to how the amendment would affect them, and also query cities in other states where the low rate on intangibles has been fixed.

Mr. Norman and Mr. Park both said that in other states where a low tax rate had been fixed on intangible property, that the revenues of the states, counties and municipalities had greatly increased.

"Passage of the amendment would permit enforcement of the law," Mr. Norman said. "I think that, judging by experience of other states in the Union, Georgia's revenue from intangible property would sharply increase and at the same time we would not fritter capital out of the state and would make the state attractive to new industries and businesses."

Says Rate Too High. Mr. Park said that few persons were returning intangible property for taxation because of the rate imposed on such classification. "Macdonald," he said facetiously, "is a great bondholder town. Why, do you know," he asked, smiling broadly, "that the amount of $6,000 in stocks and bonds is returned for taxation there?" The remark caused much laughter in the committee room.

"We are losing an enormous amount of our wealth through this futile attempt to coil it on intangibles," he said.

People of wealth are moving their residence out of this state so as to avoid payment of back taxes on intangibles when they die and the property of their estate is classified, showing their holdings of intangible property.

"People don't want to lie about this thing. They are forced to lie about it. In Chatham county, for example, if the banks pay 3 1/2 per cent interest on savings deposits, and the savings accounts there were returned for taxation, the people who save this money would lose 2 per cent, because the tax on intangibles exceeds the interest by this amount."

"There isn't a state in the Union which has been able to reach intangible property for taxation through a general property tax."

Figures of Other States. Mr. Park and Mr. Norman quoted tax figures from other states which had adopted the plan of taxing intangibles at a low rate, and in each instance, the assessment of value of intangibles filed for taxation, and the actual revenue from this source of taxation, showed a handsome increase.

"This amendment," he said, "seeks to enable the state to work out a fair system of taxation and put us in a position so we could invite capital here, keep what wealth we have in the state, and prosper."

Chairman Franklin said the association's committee adopted recommendations to continue the study of the amendment, and also to extend the association's activities to cover all fields in which municipalities are interested. He said a recommendation also would be made to the next meeting of the association—the date and place not yet determined—to call the association's name down to the Municipal Association of Georgia.

Among others at the meeting here were: F. M. Grady, of Augusta, secretary of the association; Jack Savage, assistant city attorney of Atlanta; T. O. Tabor Jr., "Horton city councilman; H. B. Crawford, city manager of Columbus; and J. Paul Stephens, city attorney of Augusta.

EMPLOYER IS BLAMED IN DEATH OF PAINTER

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 17.—(AP)—Responsibility for the death of Joseph Talley, 38, painter, who fell recently from the structure of the new post-office building, was placed today by a coroner's jury on F. W. Stephens, head of Southern Builders, Inc., the firm erecting the building.

THE TIRE THAT TAUGHT THRIFT TO MILLIONS

Now, at the lowest prices ever known, you can enjoy Firestone Extra Values.

This is possible only because Firestone concentrate their entire world-wide resources in building complete lines of quality tires, tubes, batteries, brake lining, spark plugs and accessories. These are for sale through Firestone Service Stores and Service Dealers.

Firestone do not manufacture tires under special-brand names for mail-order houses and others to distribute. Special-brand tires are made without the manufacturer's name. They are sold without his guarantee or responsibility for service.

Firestone manufacture complete lines of tires for their Service Stores and Service Dealers. Each line is designated by tread design and name. The quality and construction of each Firestone line excel that of special-brand mail-order tires sold at the same prices.

Call on the Firestone Service Dealer in your community. He will show you sections cut from Firestone Tires, special-brand mail-order tires and others. See the Extra Values you get in Firestone Tires at prices no higher than special-brand lines.

GUM-DIPPED CORDS

The Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process transforms the cotton cords into a strong, tough, sinewy unit. Liquid rubber penetrates every cord and coats every fiber, guarding against internal friction and heat, greatly increasing the strength of the cord body, and giving longer tire life.

TWO EXTRA CORD PLYS UNDER THE TREAD

This is a patented construction, and the two extra cord plies are so placed that you get 56% stronger bond between tread and cord body, and 26% greater protection against punctures and blowouts. It sets a new standard for tire performance on high speed cars.

Quiet, Safe, Long-Wearing Non-Skid Tread

Tough, thick rubber specially compounded for long, slow wear. Effective non-skid gives greater traction and safe, quiet performance.

STATE OF MANCHURIA TO BE GIVEN NEW NAME

Republican Form of Government Planned Under Dictatorship.

MUKDEN, Manchuria, Feb. 17.—(AP)—The new state of Manchuria will be known as "Ankuo," "Land of Peace," and its national emblem will be the discarded Chinese five-barred flag emblazoned by the rising sun of Japan.

It will have a republican form of government ruling under what is generally regarded as a Japanese dictatorship and will be headed by a dictator whose identity is persistently linked with that of Henry Pu-yi, former "boy emperor" of China.

Costa Rican Troops Battle Revolutionists

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Feb. 17. (UP)—Government troops and armed citizens battled revolutionists in the streets tonight in a fierce and prolonged engagement which terrorized the entire population.

Soldiers armed with machine guns and rifles, supported by a thousand civilian volunteers, hurled back an offensive launched by the rebels from the Bella Vista barracks, opposite the United States legation.

Sun To Shine Today After Long Absence

Atlanta is to have more sunshine today than it has had in the last four days. It was forecast Wednesday by C. E. von Hermann, meteorologist. The official prediction is "fair and moderately cooler with a cessation of the rains of the past four days."

Despite the fact that a drizzle kept up most of Tuesday night and Wednesday, only .06 of an inch of rain was recorded for the 24-hour period. The total precipitation for the month is 3.12 inches. Wednesday's temperature ranged between 41 and 56 degrees and today will be slightly cooler, ranging between 40 and 50 degrees, he stated.

AZALEA TRAIL OPENS IN MOBILE SUNDAY

MOBILE, Ala., Feb. 17.—On next Sunday Mayor Cecil F. Bates will formally open Mobile's famous Azalea Trail with proper ceremonies in Riverside square, a park in the business district of the city, which is the zero point of the trail.

This is an annual event in the Gulf City. Each year when the 17,000 azaleas which line the route of the trail through the residential districts and suburbs begin to show their brilliant colors, it is a signal for Sam Lackland, the official custodian of the trail, to set out the red, white and blue markers to guide the visitors over the trail. When this is completed, the trail is officially opened by the mayor.

The markers, which are red arrows on a white background mounted on blue posts, will remain in place as long as the azaleas are in bloom and then will be taken down and stored for use next year.

NO EFFORT IS MADE TO FREE A. D. POOLE

Patrolman A. Douglas Poole, of Atlanta, convicted Monday by a jury at Adel, Ga., of involuntary manslaughter, remained in the Lowndes county jail at Valdosta Wednesday, no move being made to obtain his release on bond.

Gaines also was in jail at Valdosta, no move having been made to try him. E. K. Wilcox, of Valdosta, chief of Poole's counsel, indicated Wednesday that no further action would be taken until after Poole's motion for a new trial is heard by Judge W. R. Smith, of Nashville, on March 13.

PRIEST TO PRESIDE AT ALUMNI MEETING

J. L. Priest, president of the Alumni Association of the Atlanta Opportunity School, will preside at the annual alumni meeting to be held at 8 o'clock Friday night at the Atlanta Opportunity School, corner of Spring and Baker streets.

He worked as a brakeman and conductor before he went to the school, where he prepared himself for a responsible position with the Campbell Coal Company here.

Priest was originally from Cherokee county. He entered the Atlanta Opportunity School in November, 1928, previous to which time he worked on the New York Central lines. It was after a serious accident, which caused the loss of one limb, that Mr. Priest entered school in Atlanta for vocational guidance.

Mrs. Miller Enlists In Roosevelt Ranks

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Feb. 17.—(AP)—Mrs. Emma Giffey Miller, of Pittsburgh, democratic national committeewoman, will support Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt's candidacy for the presidential nomination at the Chicago convention, although she seconded his nomination of Al Smith in 1928.

She is a sister of Joseph Giffey, former national committeeman and foremost Roosevelt supporter. She said she considers that Smith is not a candidate this year.

"That is very plain," she said, "to anybody who reads his statement."

BRITAIN AND DUGGAN TO REPRESENT STATE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 17.—Dr. M. L. Brittain, president of the Georgia School of Technology at Atlanta, will represent that institution, and M. L. Duggan, state superintendent of schools, will represent the Georgia State College for Women in Milledgeville, Ga., at the biennial convocation of the Georgia Washington University to be held in Constitution Hall, the auditorium of the Daughters of the American Revolution, on the evening of February 22.

In honoring George Washington on this occasion, representatives of colleges and universities throughout the country and the department of superintendence of the National Education Association, will join with the university founded in the District of Columbia in furtherance of his expressed hope, bearing his name, and dedicated to his educational ideals.

The convocation address will be delivered by Dr. Cloyd Heck Marvin, president of the Georgia Washington University and chairman of the District of Columbia biennial convocation.

COMMUNIST PROBE IN NEW YORK ASKED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Representative Finley, republican, Kentucky, today asked the house committee to authorize an inquiry into the communist activities in New York if the Black resolution calling for an inquiry into conditions in Harlem and Bell counties, Kentucky, is approved.

The Kentucky republican opposed the resolution by Representative Black, democrat, New York, asking a congressional investigation into alleged lawlessness in Kentucky due to difficulties in the operation of coal mines and claims by members of a party of writers who entered the area that they were assaulted.

Finley said the situation in Kentucky had been agitated by New York communists and they should be investigated.

The committee took the proposal under consideration.

VENUS ATMOSPHERE 265 MILES HIGH, SAYS PROF. CURTIN

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 17.—(AP)—The atmosphere of Venus, sister planet of the earth, has been measured by Professor John A. Curtin, of D'Youville College, who, after completing his calculations, announced tonight it is 265 miles high.

This is believed to be the first time such a measurement has been made.

Professor Curtin obtained his result from telescopic observations made at Falkirk, near Akron, N. Y.

"Latest measurements of the earth's atmosphere indicate that it extends from 177 to 188 miles above the surface, so the earth's sister planet has an atmosphere from 77 to 88 miles higher than our own," Professor Curtin said.

26 PERSONS ARRESTED IN 'BAMA DRY RAIDS

AUBURN, Ala., Feb. 17.—(AP)—Twenty-six persons, including two women, were under bond today awaiting action of a federal grand jury on charges of violating the prohibition law following raids in Lee county yesterday by eight federal prohibition officers.

Face Completely Covered With Red Pimples. Healed by Cuticura.

"My face was completely covered with little, hard, red pimples that worried me a lot. They were very sore when I washed my face. They burned and when I scratched them they would fester and scale over. I could not sleep at night because they burned so badly. The trouble lasted about seven months."

"I tried different remedies but they did not help me. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and in four weeks I was completely healed, after using three cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment." (Signed) Miss Alma Burkett, R. F. D. 3, Trenton, Tenn.

Ad Men Will Stage a Frolic At Their Luncheon Thursday

THE ABER TWINS

With the Aber Twins, headliners of Gus Edwards' "New Stars on Parade," showing at Keith's Georgia theater this week, the Atlanta Advertising Club will hold a frolic at their regular meeting this week instead of a business session. The meeting will be held at Rich's tea room Thursday at 12:30 o'clock, and all those interested in advertising subjects are invited to attend.

The Aber Twins are said by Gus Edwards to be two of his most promising stars and those who have seen them at Keith's Georgia thoroughly agree with him.

With W. R. Massengale, vice president of the Harvey-Massengale Advertising Agency, as master of ceremonies, the Atlanta Advertising Club expects a most interesting meeting. Other features will be staged at the luncheon as well as the Aber Twins, J. S. Roberts, president of the club, will be in the chair.

Detroit Will Seek U. S. Credit Relief

DETROIT, Feb. 17.—(AP)—The city of Detroit today decided to petition the federal government for credits of $10,000,000 through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation as a relief measure in the city's present financial difficulties.

This action was taken by the city council after Mayor Frank Murphy and Governor William M. Brucker had appeared and voiced their support of such a plan.

A committee was appointed to formulate the city's plan and file a petition with the corporation.

CHURCHILL SPEECH SEATS GO ON SALE NEXT SATURDAY

Seats will be placed on sale at Cable Piano Company, next Saturday, for the lecture to be given on Thursday night next by Winston Churchill, distinguished British statesman, now visiting America.

Ever since the announcement that Mr. Churchill would come to Atlanta the offices of the Alhambra Theatre, under whose auspices he will speak, have been flooded with requests for seats and information. The former chancellor of the British exchequer, author, soldier of fortune and leader in World War days is one of the most picturesque figures in public life today. He is also a brilliant orator, famous for his wit and the biting satire of which he is a master. His subject for the Atlanta lecture also is of intense interest today. It is "The Destiny of the English-Speaking Peoples."

"HOUSE BEAUTIFUL" SEAT SALE OPENS AT THEATER TODAY

Seats go on sale today at the Erlanger for the engagement of "The House Beautiful," which comes on Monday night for an engagement of three nights and a Wednesday matinee. A new low policy goes into effect with this play. The production is spectacular and calls for some 20 scenes which are effected by mechanics new to stagecraft. Instead of using a revolving stage, most of the changes of scenery are completed in total darkness while the action of the play continues.

"The House Beautiful" deals with the lives of a couple, Archie and Jennifer Davis, who throughout their 30 years of married life never reach beyond the commonplace in the eyes of the world, excepting when Archie is elected mayor of the tiny community on a platform of honesty from which he will not be swayed. Mr. Pollock has based his entire play on the thesis that a man who wears a shiny serge suit can be as much of a hero as the knights of old in their shining armor. Marked interest is already being shown in the advent at the Erlanger for the latter half of the coming week of Rombert's most melodious musical play, "The Student Prince." The all-star cast presenting this time-forgotten House of olden days has everywhere been acclaimed without a doubt as the finest "Student Prince" company yet organized.

Mail orders for the local engagement are now being received. The box office seat sale opens next Monday morning.

"STEPPING SISTERS" IS AT GRAND TODAY

The Fox comedy, "Stepping Sisters," with Louise Dresser, Minna Gombell and Jobyna Howland, opens at Low's Grand theater Thursday for the second offering this week. William Collier Sr., Howard Phillips and Ferdinand Munier play opposite the "stepping sisters."

The plot is wound around these three girls, a former trio of burlesque beauties who each sought a separate course in life following their "retirement." One becomes the proud chateaufaine of a lavish Long Island home, another a noted exponent of Shakespearian, while the third accumulates wealth and worldly wisdom. The picture is a laugh throughout, directed by Seymour Felix.

ATLANTA, GA., FEB. 18, 1932.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

To the broad principle of simplification of the executive branch of the federal government in the interest of economy and efficiency, advanced in the message of President Hoover to congress Wednesday, there is no reasonable ground for disagreement.

It remains to be seen whether the specific recommendations made towards the accomplishment of that purpose will be acceptable to both the republican senate and the democratic house. If they are not, they at least furnish a basis from which a start can be made in working out a plan of consolidation of governmental efforts which will result in better service to the people at decreased cost.

As the president predicts, it is probable that when congress gets down to cases in the consideration of the abolition or combining of specific bureaus, a noisy—and, in most instances, mistaken—protest will arise. The misguided activities in the past of those unwisely fearful of diminished governmental support of various projects is largely responsible for the existence of expensive and cumbersome bureaus whose duties could be taken over by other boards.

Added to this attitude on the part of a large portion of the public is the disinclination of the personnel of the various bureaus to stand by and see their jobs abolished.

As a result Washington is now cluttered up with innumerable boards and bureaus, with duties frequently overlapping. No better illustration of the inefficiency of the present system is to be found than in the care of the lands owned by the federal government, now in charge of three separate and distinct bureaus, any one of which could easily take over the work of the other two boards.

The president recommends that the executive branch of the government be so reorganized that the various administrative activities will be grouped according to their major purposes, with "single-headed responsibility."

One of the most serious defects of the present system of multitudinous bureaus and boards, with their numerous conflicts of authority between minor officials, is the lack of responsible heads to assure proper co-ordination and co-operation. To remedy this condition the president recommends the creation of several new posts and changes in designation for some of those already in existence.

Among the specific suggestions made are the formation of a unified public works department; a personnel administration in charge of the various service agencies, and the creation of the new offices which would have final authority with regard to public health work, the merchant marine and conservation.

During the past few months Georgia has smoothly and effectively accomplished a sweeping simplification of its state government. The service formerly rendered by our many boards has gone steadily on, with no lessening in efficiency, and with a marked saving to the people.

Congress faces a much more difficult problem in reorganizing the bulky and complicated machinery of the federal government, but it can be done.

All that clicking that will be heard throughout Atlanta this week will be the dollars jingling in the pockets of Atlanta's city employes, to which will be added the tinkling chorus of the cash registers.

Following the husky blow of the Lake Placid sportsman into the breakfast of his kidnaper, armor plate will no doubt become popular with the brave ransom seekers.

MRS. FISKE.

The death of Mrs. Minnie Madern Fiske drops the final curtain on a career responsible for many of the finest traditions of the American stage.

Mrs. Fiske was peculiarly of the stage. First appearing behind the footlights at the age of three, she became famous before reaching maturity. For 40 years afterwards she maintained her position as the greatest and most beloved of America's emotional actresses.

During her long and distinguished career Mrs. Fiske saw the American stage develop from a condition of comparative crudity to the dominant position it now occupies. To this remarkable development she contributed largely, through her devotion, in both professional and private life, to the highest ethics of the theatrical world.

Literally living the life of the stage for more than half a century, her character formed in its atmosphere, Mrs. Fiske became as famed for her upright principles and lovable qualities as for her histrionic ability.

Few American actresses have had so wide a circle of devoted friends. Among her intimates she numbered statesmen, financiers and leaders of the bar and in the highest educational circles.

She occupies a place in the traditions of the American stage similar to that of Sarah Bernhardt in the history of the spoken drama of France. Her death removes one of the most interesting and unusual present-day figures.

PUNISH MORAL USURERS.

Recent supreme court decisions bring out the fact that Georgia is fortunate in the distinction made by its laws regulating the advancements of money. Usury, when charged between businessmen, alert and contracting on a basis of equality, has no greater punishment in Georgia than the recovery of excess interest in favor of the borrower; that this recovery is rarely asked, establishes the fact that money or credit can sometimes be used profitably by businessmen at a greater rate than 8 per cent per annum.

But the Georgia law makes a distinction between the usury charged on a contract between rich man and poor man. The law presumes against the contractual equalities of money lenders and poor people—it arbitrarily regulates the business of lending money in sums of $300 and less; and all persons customarily advancing small sums of cash to the poorest people are brought under the severest regulations of the state banking department, and whoever attempts to evade this law and these regulations subjects himself to the severest punishment. Forbidden lending contracts are avoided by law and all payments thereon would seem to be recoverable.

In other words, the laws in one respect are scientific and take note of the realities of life. Under our general usury law, as far as the needs of commerce are concerned, money, like other goods, may bring a price equal to its rental value, and the penalties are mild enough to restrain without hampering otherwise fair and legitimate transactions, excessive profits on our medium of exchange.

In interpreting the small loan laws the court of appeals has affirmed a conviction and chain gang sentence in the city court of Columbus for the evasion of the usury laws under the pretense of buying wages and salaries—the first instance in this state of punishment other than fines for this offense.

It may seem to the uninformed that such a sentence is unduly harsh, but no such position would be taken by those knowing the suffering, often on the part of innocent people, which has been caused in Georgia in the past through the heartless methods of so-called loan sharks.

Agitation against the practices of these money lenders during recent months has given them ample warning of the punishment they may expect if they willfully endeavor to charge usurious interest in defiance of the law of the state.

We have experienced a marked lessening in the impositions suffered in the past by the small borrowers of the state, and the action of the court of appeals in affirming the Columbus conviction is fair warning of the attitude to be expected from our courts by those who commit such offenses in future.

I agree fully and absolutely with every criticism our Georgia bankers have lodged against the Glass bill. I shall undoubtedly be one of the house conferees, and unless the senate measure I shall enter vigorous protest.

Judge Brand has been a member of the house banking and currency committee for years. He was largely instrumental in drafting the $2,000,000 Reconstruction Finance Corporation legislation, and his sound banking and monetary sense is highly respected by his house colleagues.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN.

Hungry America.

The depression has taught us one thing: people are reading more and they are thinking more. For many years, the years of prosperity the mass allowed others to do their thinking for them. All was well. There seemed not a cloud on the horizon. It was taken for granted that happy days would go on getting happier all the time until the millennium was reached and the era of perfection dawned on earth.

The depression has rudely shaken this naive and childish confidence. Men and women are beginning to question to investigate to study and read. There is nothing at present which escapes the decompounding tendencies of the crowd. Religion itself is being subjected to a searching criticism. Somehow or other people are finding that much of its activity was a facile swimming with the current.

At present men and women are armed on religious leaders guidance, advice, leadership. But the religious leaders, or at least the majority of them, seem not to have understood the state of the times. They still continue to dish out the old shibboleths, the old sermons, they persist in their attitude of lukewarmness and even hostility to all that is new, to all that looks toward the future. They look to the past for inspiration. But the past is gone and a new world is in genesis that will inevitably sweep the remnants of the past away.

FRANK S. STEELE (Army Serial No. 96135), Corporal, Company C, 16th Infantry, 24th Division, American Expeditionary Force, awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for extraordinary heroism in action with the enemy near Beuvardes, France, July 18, 1918.

Corporal Steele, although severely wounded in the right shoulder, continued to lead his squad forward through heavy machine gun fire. Later, with a few others, he took up a position in a sunken road and repulsed an enemy counter-attack. His devotion to duty was an excellent example to the entire command.

It's the Lieutenant and Not the General Who Feels the Need of Salutes

By Robert Quillen

Many people long for wealth because they wish to "be somebody." They are not unhappy for want of great houses, servants, fleets of cars and yachts.

They live in baleful discontent because they feel inferior, and they covet wealth because they believe it would enable them to feel important. It is not wealth they desire, but self-respect.

To plan your life on the assumption that wealth is essential to happiness or decent pride is to invite and merit disaster. There isn't enough wealth in the land to provide a surplus for everybody; the winning of wealth requires rare good fortune or a peculiar type of mind and conscience; and no fortune is secure against the moths that corrupt and the thieves that break through and steal.

As the sole and proper foundation of self-respect, wealth commands itself only to the unthinking and the simple. There is another and better foundation, available to all. It consists in being respectable.

Consider the engineer of a locomotive. He has no wealth, but he is content with himself and his world. He feels at ease in the presence of the rich and the great. His job is necessary and useful; he is a trained man not easily replaced; he knows his worth to the world, demands and receives respect, and therefore respects himself as well.

He isn't unhappy without wealth because he doesn't feel inferior without it.

You can enter any community in America, except the resorts of the social elite, and win universal respect simply by working at your job, speaking the language of intelligent and well-informed people, and behaving like one who respects himself and takes it for granted that the world will respect him as well.

If that were not true, middle-class people would be uniformly miserable. The first essential is to deserve your own good opinion. Once that is achieved, you can face the world without misgivings, and no more money loss can break your spirit. You may enjoy wealth, if good fortune favors it, but you won't need it.

College degrees mean little to an inventor who has won fame and fortune without them.

FATE OF FARLEY RESTS IN HANDS OF GOV. ROOSEVELT

$357,000 bank deposits was "an insult to your excellency's intelligence." In return, a charge that Farley was an honest man, victim of Seabury's vaulting ambition, was hurled by the six-foot sheriff's counsel, Siegfried Hartman.

"No, no," said the same sheriff in answer to questions about a rumor that he would quit office. "I never quit under fire."

"Multiple defense was based on the fact that the money was channeled on bank records many times in transactions involving loans, real estate deals and security purchases and sales."

Counsel for Farley told Governor Roosevelt that, for Governor Roosevelt, he had taken the interest on litigants' funds when he was sheriff of New York county, many years ago.

Smith was sheriff under a fee system, which was later abolished in favor of the present plan of having the sheriff paid on a regular salary basis.

Siegfried Hartman, Farley's attorney, argued that it had long been the custom for the sheriff to take the interest on litigants' funds and stated that he had been told by Sheriff Griffenbaugh had done so.

APPEAL TO HONOR OF JAPAN SOUNDED IN LEAGUE NOTI

"Long as the present state of affairs continues the discord between the two countries will be aggravated, endangering the creation of a situation unfavorable to the status of the world at large."

"The committee of 12 earnestly trusts Japan will admit her obligations and justify the confidence reposed in her official reports to the world. We point out that according to the Kellogg pact all international disputes should be settled amicably."

The confidant later conveyed Japan's legal objections to convening the assembly to hear the case, as requested by a committee, and referred the matter to a committee of jurists.

JAPAN TO SEND IMMEDIATELY TO LEAGUE IMMEDIATELY

"The Japanese reply will say: 1. The statement of the League of Nations, which is a party—as is all parties—to the Kellogg pact, is a party to the Kellogg pact, and there can be no doubt that Japan, contrary to that pact, has sought to settle a dispute by force of arms."

Health Talks

BY DR. WILLIAM BRADY

RHEUMATISM.

In self-defense I wish to inform readers that the name I sign to all these articles is William Brady, M. D., and I can't help it if the editors prefer to print it Dr. or even Doc.

Unlike some health column conductors who invariably call themselves Doctor and never divulge by what right they use such a title, I am a legally licensed physician, with the degree of doctor of medicine, a republican by birth but a prohibitionist-socialist-democrat by principle.

In order to avoid confusion let me repeat one of my most annoying assertions, namely, that there is no such disease or condition as rheumatism, and then while you're good and mad about that let me add that the name of the disease which is called rheumatism is not in the dictionary.

Now, then, we're ready to see what effect fruit acids, as good doctors call them, have on rheumatism, as doctors no so good call it.

Dr. J. Epstein—obviously a studious, competent physician—has conducted a careful five-year observation of 33 normal children and 98 rheumatic children, as he calls them, with particular regard to their diet. He started with the supposition that rheumatism in children is caused at least in some measure by faulty nutrition, and he found a marked shortage of fruit acids in the diet.

He found that the diet taken by the 98 rheumatic children included an abundance of food of a fair variety and quality, but a decided deficiency of fresh vegetables and fruits.

Dr. Epstein holds that salicylic acid, benzoic acid, citric acid and tartaric acid are all antirheumatic. He reminds us that these acids, or rather their precursors, are found in many of the fruits which are derived from nature.

He believes the acid-precursors in these fruits tend to prevent intestinal putrefaction, reduce the acid, and hence the rheumatism. Don't let these glib terms deceive you, reader. I quote them from Dr. Epstein but just the same I think that he is right.

He quotes it in order to encourage parents to feed their children more fruit and vegetables, and I believe that it is good health advice, whether it has anything to do with the ailments Dr. Epstein calls rheumatism.

CITY EMPLOYEES TO GET $1,000,000 IN PAY SATURDAY

announced that the $500,000 owed creditors will be retired within the next two months on the same basis.

Tatum Begins Check. The mayor informed Harrison and Thomas, city school business managers, that any anticipation of $200,000 proposed to be diverted from a contingent account contained in all January finance sheets, would in all probability be an over-anticipation.

A resolution to divert the money was offered at the last session of the board for consideration. There is little indication that it will be passed by council.

Preparation of the school board budget will be a long-drawn-out affair, it is predicted, with factions opposing curtailment of service waging heated fights to prevent any substantial slashes.

Officially Atlanta banks notified the mayor that they could not under the law lend money to retire 1931 deficits, although they considered the city's financial situation.

The city's financial situation, passed Monday by council and approved by the mayor, a balanced budget. The decision came after a second conference with the bankers.

Members of the real estate board and allied organizations at the luncheon meeting Wednesday at the Piedmont hotel gave a ringing vote of support to Mayor Key at the conclusion of his talk to the members.

The vote was suggested by Hugh Richardson, a property owner who said he had suffered somewhat from this depression.

The largest crowd that has attended a board luncheon this year greeted the mayor.

The tax consumer is more interested in politics than the taxpayer, the mayor asserted, and he urged property owners to look out for their interests on the ballot box.

The mayor added that the city didn't have a fair deal from the state and county, and he believed that he had suffered somewhat from this depression.

The city paid nearly a fourth of the state's taxes and yet got little benefit from either.

"See that the right men are elected to the legislature, and the city's interests are taken care of," the mayor said.

The legislature had passed a bill to prevent the city from imposing a tax on intangible property, and he said the city's share of the insurance tax was diverted from it.

Not until last year had the city received any money from the county for support of the city hospital, although county citizens benefited.

PRISON FARM DEAL MEETS NEW DELAY

Additional "technical difficulties" in the way of closing the state's trade for a new prison farm, tentatively selected in Tullahoma county, were disclosed Wednesday after attorneys representing the owners of the property, members of the prison commission and Representative John C. Bessley, of Greenville, conferred with Governor Russell.

Indications are that the state will pay out approximately $120,000 for the new farm. It will have a purchase expense estimated at $10,000. But, once the deal is closed, the prison commission will have available about $70,000 for the construction of buildings safe enough to hold dangerous convicts. The new farm is expected to relieve the crowded condition at the Milledgeville farm.

Bessley, who has served as a liaison officer between the owners and the state, said he thought the last obstacle had been removed until a new objection was raised Wednesday. The deal has been hanging fire since the regular session of the general assembly.

ALPHARETTA RECORDS ARE GIVEN TO DEPUTY

B. F. Manning, city clerk of Alpharetta, Wednesday turned over to Deputy Sheriff T. L. Carroll, of Fulton county, all of Alpharetta's city records on service of a possessory warrant obtained by Mayor Ira L. Dodd from Justice of the Peace John Slappey. The action is the latest outgrowth in the controversy over the recent Alpharetta mayoralty and councilmanic elections.

RED CROSS WILL AID DEKALB COUNTY NEEDY

Although the DeKalb county chapter, American Red Cross, has given 1,500 garments since last July, the calls of the needy are increasing and the chapter is launching a new drive for old clothing or food. Mrs. C. E. Patillo, production chairman, and a special committee, has appointed Emily Stead to be in charge of the campaign which is to last a month. Camp Fire Girls will distribute paper bags to homes with the request to fill them with clothing or food. They will be collected by Boy Scouts.

Sunday Show Issue Aired Before Police Court

13 THEATER MEN FINED $50 EACH; APPEAL PLANNED

operation of moving picture shows on Sunday. The cases were made Sunday afternoon when two groups of defendants, acting on orders from Police Chief James L. Beavers served copies on downtown and neighborhood theater executives.

With five cases due to be heard before Recorder A. W. Callaway Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the courtroom in the police station was packed to capacity when the hour arrived.

Those arraigned before Recorder Callaway were A. H. Duren, Empire; G. W. Gaston, Madison; E. L. Anderson, Tenth Street; L. S. Bach, Alpha, and John Thompson, West End. When Recorder Callaway called the docket, Walter Sims, former mayor of Atlanta, appeared as defense counsel and Jack Savage, assistant city attorney, acted for the prosecution. City Attorney James L. Mayson was not in the room.

Agree to Try One Case.

Lawyers agreed at the outset to try only the case against John Thompson and to let the court pass on all others according to the evidence in that case.

When the evidence was completed Recorder Callaway ruled that, while he was not condemning the intentions of those back of the move to operate shows on Sunday, that he felt it proper to assess fines against the managers in order that the court of appeals of Georgia might settle the issue of law violation once and for all.

Immediately after Recorder Callaway had assessed fines of $50 and costs against the managers, Recorder John L. Cone took the bench to try the eight remaining cases against downtown theater managers. Mayson vs. Sims.

City Attorney James L. Mayson appeared for the prosecution and Walter Sims continued as defense counsel. Mr. Sims moved to let his eight defendants abide by the decision of Judge Callaway in the first five cases and accept fines of $50 each and costs. Mr. Mayson agreed and Recorder Cone presented to the court the bonds tendered by the defendants.

Mr. Sims began preparing appeals and making arrangements for posting bonds today pending the arrival in the higher courts of the appeals. Both judges agreed to wait until today actually to demand the payment of fines so that bond could be made.

The eight managers fine by Judge Cone and their theaters are Roy Youngblood, Fox; E. E. Whitaker, Keith's Georgia; L. Welford, Capitol; L. W. White, Grand; H. T. Kimmel, Rialto; G. T. Wilby, Cameo; E. W. Hathecock, Palace; G. T. Bailey, Royal (a negro show).

Callaway Refused Transfer.

The five cases first tried had been set ahead from Tuesday following a word battle between Mayson and Recorder Callaway concerning removing the trials from Judge Callaway's jurisdiction. He had agreed to postpone them, but refused to transfer the cases to Judge Cone's division.

Not since the trial of Mrs. M. H. Margeson, of the emergency relief committee, on charges of violating Sunday show laws, has a crowd in police court been so large. All seats were taken and court officials were harassed trying to maintain order. Those who came late and found all seats taken were ranged around the walls and in the aisles.

To complete the scene of strangeness in the dingy courtroom, radio microphones were ranged around the judge's desk. Station WGST made a broadcast of the proceedings to the radio audience. Radio reporters and announcers gave vivid descriptions of the crowd and of what was taking place.

Spectators Are Quiet.

Unlike the trial of Mrs. Margeson, who was acquitted of violating Sunday laws several weeks ago, the trial Wednesday was carried on with no demonstrations in the courtroom. The intense feeling between attorneys in the former case also was absent and lawyers and court officials went about their task in business-like manner.

Many prominent people were in the room Wednesday to appear as witnesses and spectators. Among those present were T. K. Glenn, chairman of the emergency relief committee; John A. Manget, Mrs. Margeson and others.

Actual testimony in the trial was little. Love Harrell, secretary of the Atlanta Theater Managers' Association, was called as the first witness for the prosecution. Lawyers brought out the evidence that shows had been operated last Sunday under auspices of the emergency relief committee and that a total of $3,950 gross was taken in by ticket sellers. Of that amount $895.10 has been given to the relief organization pending a balancing of theater books to determine the net proceeds, all of which will be turned over to charity, Mr. Harrell said.

Committee Paid 10 Per Cent.

He explained that a check for 10 per cent of the gross was paid immediately to fulfill the agreement by the managers with the committee guaranteeing at least 10 per cent of the gross funds.

T. K. Glenn was called as a witness to prove that he and Mayor James L. Key had invited Mr. Harrell to confer with them regarding the operation of Sunday shows for charity. A letter signed by Mr. Glenn was introduced.

During the examination it was brought out that the city of Atlanta operates amusement concessions such as the Cyclorama at Grant park, swimming pools and golf links on Sunday. R. B. Wilby, who acts as treasurer for the charity funds from theaters, testified regarding details of fund distribution.

Mr. Glenn said that $350,000 was needed by the relief committee in order to prevent hunger and suffering among the unemployed.

When the state rested, Mr. Sims appealed for a dismissal and upon a refusal by the judge said he had no witnesses to offer. Both Mr. Sims and Mr. Savage made speeches which dealt largely with technicalities of law. Several decisions from the higher courts were read.

Section Prohibiting Shows.

Following is Section 3131, which prohibits the opening of amusement places on Sunday:

"It shall be unlawful for the owner, or operator or manager or person in shows will divide our forces for relief in a most unfortunate way and do it at a time when it is imperative that we should be united in spirit, in method and in purpose to meet the needs of the hour. Laboring men will certainly oppose any movement which eventually may take from them the right to day of rest, and certainly the ministers, the churches and our citizenry in general will resist any effort which tends toward the commercializing of the Lord's Day.

"Of the estimated amount of money which the Emergency Relief Committee hopes to receive from Sunday shows, the major portion of it will be the contribution of the operators who have agreed to donate their extra pay for Sunday work. Since the rentals of theater buildings, rentals of films and other general expenses are to be prorated among seven days instead of six, it is quite probable that the theaters will profit rather than lose by this agreement. Moreover, if such a plan does not violate the state law, then it follows that any business concern in Atlanta can legally defray an appreciable portion of its weekly operating expenses by the same procedure.

Fortunately, Fulton county recently has assessed the $100,000 to be used by the Emergency Relief Committee. This amount added to that previously available gives them approximately $200,000 for immediate relief work. With this fact before us, we see no present emergency which justifies such an innovation in Atlanta as operating Sunday shows under the guise of charity. We realize that the money now available for the Emergency Relief Committee is adequate to meet the needs for only a few months and that supplemental funds must be forthcoming later. Therefore, we pledge our best effort in behalf of any plan to secure such funds, provided it does not fall upon us to sacrifice principles which are vital and sacred to us. There is no doubt that church people have done their part and more in giving to all forms of relief and that they are willing to keep on giving until every need is satisfied. But they will not support nor sanction any scheme which is an offense to their consciences and calls for a sacrifice of their convictions.

Opposition Registered.

"But, waiting all that has been said above, we come finally to register our firm and unequivocal opposition to the operating of Sunday shows in the name of charity and to refuse to sanction this or any other plan which cheapens the claims of brotherhood and erodes the obligation of stewardship. We take our stand upon two basic principles which cannot be ignored or set aside at will for convenience, for gain, or for show, except at the peril of our civilization: "First, we must defend and abide by our statute laws. To operate Sunday shows for charity is a clear and open violation of an ordinance of this city and a violation of Section 410 of the penal code of the state.

"Second, we must respect and abide by our convictions which is deep as life itself, that the Lord's Day, hallowed by God Himself, should be kept holy unto Him.

"Therefore, we cannot do other than oppose the destruction of the day even if it is done under the guise of securing funds for charity.

Conference Tourney Plans Near Completion

Neyland Refuses Wisconsin Offer

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 17.—Major Robert Neyland, University of Tennessee football coach, told the News-Sentinel by telephone from Chattanooga today that he had rejected an offer to coach at the University of Wisconsin.

While Coach Neyland has not signed his 1932 contract at Tennessee, university athletics officials expressed the belief that he will sign soon.

Bobby Barrett Working Out Here

Bobby Barrett, local boy, who broke in with Little Rock, of the Southern league, in 1929 and played third base for Newark, N. J., of the International league last season, is working out daily at the Y. M. C. A. He will report to his club in Lakeland, Fla., about March 8.

Meantime, Neyland has been going ahead with spring football practice at Tennessee.

TEAM DRAWING WILL BE MADE EARLY SUNDAY

Schools Notified To File Entries Before Saturday Night.

By Jimmy Jones

Preliminary interest in Atlanta's annual blue ribbon event of basketball, the Southern conference tournament, was given impetus yesterday when Al Doonan announced that the conference committee would meet Sunday to draw up pairings.

They will be ready for announcement Monday morning.

Yesterday Doonan received a telephone message from H. J. Stegeman, of the University of Georgia, stating that he would be over early Sunday for the committee meeting.

They expect to have the drawings complete by 3 p. m. Sunday.

It also was announced that all teams have been notified that they must have entrance applications in the hands of Mr. Stegeman not later than 6 p. m. Saturday.

Invitations have been mailed to all the 23 members of the conference and the 10 teams with the best records will be invited to participate.

At Sunday's meeting the committee will select the teams eligible for competition prior to making the drawings.

The pre-tourney season for most teams is rapidly nearing a close. Only a few scattered games for the first part of next week remain, but they include the third and deciding contest between Tech and Georgia the night of February 23.

The tournament proper begins here on Saturday, February 26, and runs through March 2. Maryland's Old Liners, with a crack team returned, are the defending champions, while Kentucky, which has been setting the conference pace this year and was runner-up last year, is another ranking favorite.

Liners and Vols Enter Tourney.

ATHENS, Ga., Feb. 17.—Maryland and Tennessee have already officially entered the Southern tournament, H. J. Stegeman announced today.

Entries for the tournament must be in the office of the Georgia Athletic Association here by 6 o'clock Saturday night or the entries will not be considered.

V. M. L. Clemson and V. P. I. have already notified Coach Stegeman that they will not have entries in the tournament, while several other teams are not expected to participate.

BREAK of the DAY

Dallas, whose teams rank with the best, tried it out in post-season games last fall.

Morrison recommended the punt on kick-offs as adding more thrills to the start of play with less danger attending.

And, in addition, all this shooting at football officials is a clear violation of the game laws. The season is closed on officials until next October 1. The boys do their best. And I believe their job will be easier next fall.

Four-Ball Play At Miami Today

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Feb. 17.—(AP)—Top-notchers of Florida's amateur golfing caravan will tee off tomorrow for first stage play in the international amateur four-ball championship at the Miami Biltmore Club course.

The tournament, a new one this year, will call for 36-hole match play each day through Sunday.

Pairings as announced today resulted from invitation to the 32 amateurs participating. They are:

T. Philip Perkins, England, and Howard Tryon, Detroit, vs. A. P. Lawton, Providence, R. I., and H. B. Money, Wilmington, Del.

T. E. Price, Miami, and H. B. Rust Jr., Miami, vs. J. B. Ryerson, Cooperstown, N. Y., and Albert R. Hakes, Dunkirk, N. Y.

Winfield Day, Chicago, and Art Lynch, New York, vs. Leo Shea, Buffalo, and Richard M. Steffan, Buffalo.

Jack Vilas Sr., Chicago, and Fred Bannert Jr., Rochester, N. Y., vs. Tommy Goodwin, Monroe, N. Y., and Celest Durand, Brooklyn.

Gus Novotny, La Grange, Ill., and H. S. Bowber, Chicago, vs. Buddy Browne, Dayton, Ohio, and G. L. Miller Jr., Miami.

Jimmy West, Miami, and Joe Roach, Miami, vs. Dan Socoli, New Britain, Conn., and F. H. Hohlfelder, Cleveland, Ohio.

T. H. Somerville, Charlottesville, Va., and John Brown, Portland, Maine, vs. Frank Norman, Miami, and Ken Berry, Miami.

J. H. Lobnitz, Miami, and Earl Christiansen, Miami, vs. Tommy Aycock, Jacksonville, and Jack Toomer, Jacksonville, Fla.

G.I.A.A. Times For Meet Made

SAVANNAH, Ga., Feb. 17.—(AP)—Starting times for the opening day games in the G. I. A. A. basketball tournament which will start here on February 25 were assigned by a committee of the Chamber of Commerce today.

The starting times follow:

3 P. M.—Riverside vs. Gordon.

4 P. M.—G. M. A. vs. Lanier High.

7:30 P. M.—Benedictine vs. Boys' High.

8:30 P. M.—Savannah High vs. Monroe.

9:30 P. M.—Tech High vs. winner Riverside-Gordon game.

Riverside and Gordon will play in an elimination game to determine which team will enter the tournament proper.

Lanier, Monroe, Boys' High and Gordon will be quartered at the De Soto hotel, while Tech High, Riverside and G. M. A. will stay at the Hotel Savannah.

MILAN EXPECTS SPIRITED CHASE FOR '32 HONORS

Baron Manager Sees Improved Clubs; Likes Own Chances.

By Dillon Graham, Associated Press Sports Writer.

Although Manager Clyde Milan thinks well of his Birmingham Southern Baseball Association champions, he's looking for no runaway in the Dixie steepchase this summer.

If his team is as good as it was last year, Milan says the Barons will be in the chase, no matter how much the other clubs are strengthening.

He looks for improved teams all along the southern front, especially at Little Rock, Memphis, Chattanooga and New Orleans. He's uncertain about Atlanta's power.

Milan is admittedly worried over the loss of his star outfielder, Art Weiss.

"I have lost two men who will be hard to replace, especially Art Weiss, who was a great season fielding and hitting," he said. "I do not know of a player anywhere who could do what he did for me last year. I also have lost Third Baseman Goodch, but figure I can replace his fielding strength if not his batting power."

BANKS ON YOUTH.

"If the Birmingham club is as good as it was last year, figure the others can be strengthened and we still can be in the running at all times," Milan asserted. "I have hopes that the improvement of two or three young fellows will be enough to offset what faltering may be done by the older players."

He fears the Travelers. "Little Rock came along with such a bang last season that they are bound to be dangerous. The club is intact with the exception of Campbell, who was a power at bat in their drive for second place."

Trohn is a capable manager and the best third baseman in the league. I do not know whether they will be able to arrange their club as they did last year, for all regulars to be class men. If they cannot do this, it may hurt them."

PELS DANGEROUS.

In Milan's opinion New Orleans, with Jackie Aze as manager, will be a real contender. "New Orleans has made the most changes and has added strength to what was already a great pitching staff. Their outfield and infield outside one or two posts will have to be made."

Chattanooga will be "troublesome" so long as Bert Neff is manager and Joe Engel president, he says. "Their outfield is good enough to start and finish. They have a hole at shortstop and the rest of the infield as good as any and several good pitchers."

Milan thinks Memphis will be stronger. Nashville should do better in Joe Klugman's second year as manager, and Knoxville will have to build its team around three or four players held over from last year.

"I am not in position to make a prediction about Atlanta. It seems their infield is very unsettled at this time, but they have three or four mighty good pitchers," he said.

All-Star Ring Card For East Point Fans

Thirty rounds of boxing will be offered tonight in the Knight in the Ring auditorium, starting at 8:30 o'clock, by the East Point chapter of the American Legion.

In the opening fight, "Kid" Peck will meet Rennie McDuffie in a four-rounder. Charlie Brown, the East Point youth with a hard right, will meet Leo Ulrich, in the semi-windup of eight rounds.

Others on the card include James Hanson and Billie Wilson, and Battling Mike and Rennie Regan.

Ladies will be admitted for half price. Tubby Walton will be the referee.

Georgia Freshmen Beat Lanier, 34-33

ATHENS, Ga., Feb. 17.—Staging a last-minute rally, Georgia's freshmen took their first basketball game of the year here today by defeating Lanier High school, of Macon, 34-33.

Abe Eisenman, freshman guard, sent a field goal with exactly 20 seconds left to play by the team's watch. Georgia, which had trailed up until that time, went 1 point ahead and the Bulldogs stayed ahead as the timer's whistle blew ending the game.

Atlanta Grappler Body Slam Victim

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Joe Malcewicz, 200, of Utica, N. Y., flattened Charley Strack, 215, of Spring Valley, with a body slam after 34 minutes and 11 seconds of wrestling in the feature match at St. Nicholas arena tonight.

Jack Sherry, 220, Cleveland, threw George Harben, 205, Atlanta, with an airplane spin and body slam in 11:44.

Cherry Tree Tourney Opens

ALBANY, Ga., Feb. 17.—(AP)—Golfers from Georgia, Florida and Alabama tomorrow start play in this state's first amateur event of the spring season, the Cherry Tree Invitation tournament at Radium Springs golf course.

Competitors will swing through an 18-hole medal play round tomorrow to qualify for the various flights of match play starting Friday.

The match play will be at 18 holes, except for the 36-hole finals in all flights Sunday.

Radium Springs' par 72 probably will be broken several times during this event as Dixie's amateurs shoot after the medals and trophies offered to the low scorers.

Among those entered are L. R. Hunter, Atlanta; Billy McWilliams, Rome; Johnny, Billy, Robert and Jack Oliver, of Valdosta; Scottie Beverly, of Thomasville; Jim and Henderson Warren, of Tampa, Fla.; Dr. Blue Harris, Montgomery, Ala.; Al Ulmer, Jacksonville, Fla.; Howard Lilliston, Albany; and Horace Wright, Macon.

Charlie Yates Enters Tourney.

ALBANY, Ga., Feb. 17.—(AP)—Charlie Yates, of Atlanta, Ga., state amateur golf champion, was listed tonight among the entrants in the annual cherry tree tournament which begins tomorrow at Radium Springs.

The entry list, according to those in charge, was growing as the time drew near for the contest, and many made practice rounds today.

TWO NEW MARKS MADE ON ALLEYS

Two new high marks for the week's play in the third annual city duck-pin championship tournament were recorded Wednesday night at the Atlanta Bowling Alleys when the former singles and doubles mark were passed.

Candler and Puckett went into the lead in the doubles with a mark of 685, while McCorkle and Robertson's score of 680, made Tuesday night, was a real contender.

"New Orleans has made the most changes and has added strength to what was already a great pitching staff. Their outfield and infield outside one or two posts will have to be made."

Chattanooga will be "troublesome" so long as Bert Neff is manager and Joe Engel president, he says. "Their outfield is good enough to start and finish. They have a hole at shortstop and the rest of the infield as good as any and several good pitchers."

Milan thinks Memphis will be stronger. Nashville should do better in Joe Klugman's second year as manager, and Knoxville will have to build its team around three or four players held over from last year.

"I am not in position to make a prediction about Atlanta. It seems their infield is very unsettled at this time, but they have three or four mighty good pitchers," he said.

PREP RING CARD SITE IS CHANGED

Boys' High and Tech High's boxers will meet in a dual match at the city auditorium during the first week in March, it was learned Wednesday.

It was first planned to stage the bouts in the Henry Grady gymnasium, but due to the increased popularity of the new prep sport, it was decided to move the show to the auditorium.

There will be eight or nine bouts and three or four wrestling matches on the card.

Babe Ruth Enters Finals of Tourney

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 17.—(AP)—Babe Ruth reached the finals of the Snell Isle amateur golf tournament here today, defeating Ross Carson, Flint, Mich., at the 19th hole.

Ruth had an approximate 80 after scoring a 70, one under par, in his first match yesterday.

SMITHIES MEET PURPLES TODAY FOR PREP TITLE

Tech High-Boys' High Game Decides Big Six Race.

Tech High and Boys' High, traditional athletic rivals, will meet at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon on the Henry Grady court for the championship of the Big Six basketball league. In a preliminary to the varsity game, members of the reserve teams of the two schools will play for the B. crown.

Tech High is undefeated in seven games, while Boys' High lost only to Tech High out of six games. A Smithie victory today will win the crown, while a Purple victory will throw the two teams in a tie for the championship.

The Smithie B. team also is undefeated, while Boys' High is tied with the G. M. A. team for second place in the B. league.

In another interesting game in the league, Monroe Aggies play Madison Aggies on the Madison court. Monroe won the first meeting between the two on the Monroe court, but Madison has improved considerably and is out to even the count today.

Although Tech High is undefeated this season, its play in recent games has been below par. The Smithies barely nosed out G. M. A. and Monroe in hard-fought games.

Tech High has depended largely on the starting lineup in every game and the varsity has suffered materially from the long strain and lack of help from the reserves.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Feb. 17.—(AP)—Ignorance and fear have distorted in public opinion the possibilities of poison gases in war, said Major General Harry L. Gilchrist, United States army chief of the chemical warfare, who arrived in Savannah this morning to visit Fort Screven. He was accompanied by Major Brian S. Buxton, chief of the chemical warfare reserves, and at the United States would not be caught napping.

"A lot of bull," said General Gilchrist when asked about the public's conception that cities with all of their inhabitants could be laid in the grave with gas attacks.

The metropolis of New York was used as an illustration. He pointed out that airplanes to effectively use gas have to fly at a high ceiling of 4,000 feet, with this one disadvantage

Now Judge M. Felton Hatcher, of recorder's court, is unable to understand this odd lingo. So when one of the 'Geechee negroes appeared before him and began rattling off his spiel, the judge sat and listened—but such appeals in police court are the same in any language. When the talk had ceased the judge said:

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—(AP)—The stock market turned today and gave up what had been gained in yesterday's advance.

Forenoon transactions were characterized by considerable irregularity.

One or two attempts to push the market through the recent high fell fractionally short of success.

The market slipped off sharply after profit-taking in the later hours, closing with a heavy tone. Many pivotal issues were off 1 to 6 points

net, averaging into a net loss of 2.8 points against a rise of 2.7 in the previous session. Sales totaled

2,180,813 shares.

The swift reversal came when the news was as much favorable as otherwise. American Telephone's directors fulfilled market expectations by declaring a regular quarterly dividend of $2.25. Telephone led the decline with a 6-point break.

United States Steel tried vainly to but vainly to cross 50, and fell back more than 2 points net.

Du Pont, Case, American Tobacco and Sears-Roebuck sagged 2 to 2.1.

First-quarter earnings for most stock companies, unless conditions improve promptly and markedly, are bound to be unprofitable.
